

[\[ Back \]](#)

Job Description:

---

Job Title

Assistant Professor of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Non-tenure track, August 2019

Department	Location	Category	Status
Communication Sciences and Disorders	Rinker Campus (Irvine)	Faculty	Full-time

---

General Information

Chapman University's Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders seeks applications for a faculty position in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Crean College of Health and Behavioral Sciences, beginning August 2019.

The CSD department is fully accredited by the Council of Academic Accreditation (CAA). It is located on the Rinker Health Science campus in Irvine, California, which is home to several graduate health science professional programs, including physical therapy, pharmacy, and physician assistant studies. The campus is distinguished by its innovative research laboratories, teaching and learning technology, and emphasis on inter-professional education, evidence-based practice, and health promotion and prevention. The newly established Institute for Interdisciplinary Brain and Behavioral Sciences on the Rinker campus provides opportunity for interdisciplinary research (<https://www.chapman.edu/research/institutes-and-centers/brain-institute/index.aspx>).

The Rinker campus is strategically located near numerous medical centers in Southern California in the heart of Orange County. Furthermore, we are associated with several centers and school districts that provide services to preschoolers and school-aged children. For more information about the Communication Sciences and Disorders department visit the CSD website (<https://www.chapman.edu/crean/academic-programs/graduate-programs/ms-communication-sciences-and-disorders/index.aspx>). For more information about the Crean College of Health and Behavioral Sciences, visit the CHBS website (<https://www.chapman.edu/crean/index.aspx>).

Chapman University offers traditional undergraduate programs in the arts and sciences and pre-professional and graduate programs. Ranked in the top tier of western universities by U.S. News and World Report, Chapman has gained national recognition with its commitment to excellence through research and innovation teaching.

---

Qualifications

---

Excellence in teaching, clinical supervision, and a commitment to working in an inter-professional health services environment. Applicants must have a doctorate or a master's degree in communication disorders, hold CCC-SLP certification, and have or be eligible for CA license. Preference will be given to those who also hold the CA SLP credential for working in the public schools.

---

Responsibilities

---

Graduate teaching and/or clinical supervision in speech, language and cognitive communication disorders across the lifespan. The successful candidate will have a minimum of 5 years of clinical experience, have teaching experience at the college level and have a skill set that includes managing external clinical practicum placements of CSD students.

Successful applicants will be able to teach adult cognitive and language disorders, motor speech disorders, AAC, child language disorders, second language acquisition, multicultural and multilinguistic influences, school-based issues and/or literacy.

Advise graduate students and guide student projects.

Provide service to the college, university and profession commensurate with their faculty rank.

---

Contact Information

---

Qualified candidates should send electronic copies of a faculty application, letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching and research statement as well as contact information for three references to:

Mary RT Kennedy, PhD., CCC-SLP
Search Committee Chair
C/O Academic Jobs online at
<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11949>

Inquiries: Please direct inquiries to Ms. Christine Dumauval at dumauval@chapman.edu. Please use "CSD Faculty Position" as the email subject line.

Successful completion of a criminal background check is required for the final candidate. Application reviews will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with experience.

---

Download a copy of the Chapman Faculty Application for Employment here.

---

Chapman University is an equal opportunity employer committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community. The University is dedicated to enhancing diversity and inclusion in all aspects of recruitment and employment. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ancestry, citizenship status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, military and veteran status, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. The University is committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply.

Chapman University, One University Drive, Orange, CA 92866 Human Resources Department

---

---