RESEARCH AND TEACHING OVERVIEW

My program of research investigates how social and biological factors shape body image dissatisfaction, health behaviors, sexuality, infidelity, mate preferences, and attitudes towards weight and obesity-related public policies. This work investigates how these experiences differ for gay, lesbian, bisexual, and heterosexual men and women, and for ethnic minority and majority men and women. To examine these phenomena, I conduct and analyze experiments, large-scale national surveys, and cross-cultural research surveys. My goal as a professor is to help students think like scientists and apply the theories they learn to understand their experiences, current events, and human behavior. I have over 60 lecture, seminar, and online courses, primarily in Research Methods (with labs), Human Sexuality, Psychology of Gender and Sexual Orientation, Social Psychology, Psychology of Gender and the Body, Social Psychology Research Lab Methods, Evolutionary Psychology, and Introductory Psychology. I supervise undergraduate and graduate research projects.

EDUCATION

Ph.D., UCLA, Los Angeles, California

HONORS AND RESEARCH FUNDING

- 2022 SPSP Teacher/Scholar Travel Award [500]
- 2020-2021 Principal Investigator: Kay Family Foundation COVID Rapid Response [40,000]
Awarded funds to for the project Identifying Risk and Promoting Resilience in the Midst of the COVID-19 Pandemic: Examining Mental and Physical Health in a National Sample which applies machine learning, neural network modelling, and structural equation modelling to better isolate the impact of the COVID pandemic on mental and health behaviors.
- 2019-2021 Principal Investigator: Kay Family Foundation Data Analytic Grant [100,000]
Awarded funds to for the project Applying Big Data Analytic Techniques to Understand the Predictors and Prevalence of Body Image Disturbances and Disordered Eating Patterns in National Samples which applies machine learning, neural network modelling, and structural equation modelling to better isolate predictors of disordered eating and poor body image.
- 2020 3rd Place Prize for Virtual Citation Poster: American Psychosomatic Society [150]
Selected from 200 poster presentation submissions to be delivered as brief data-blitz style talk, and awarded 3rd place for presentation Many Asian Americans and Blacks report racist incidents connected to COVID-19: Results from a national study at the Virtual 2020 APS Conference on Pursuing Health Equity in the Context of COVID-19.
- 2019 Award for Mentorship of Undergraduate Research and Scholarly Activity [1000]
Given to one-three professors each year to recognize “exceptional work by faculty guiding student research and creative activity that enriches undergraduate students’ lives beyond the classroom. These awards convey Chapman University’s mission to provide personalized education of distinction.”
- 2018 Hugo G. Beigel Award for Excellence in Sexuality Research [990]
The award promotes and rewards research excellence in sexual science, and is granted annually to the author(s) of an outstanding research report on sexuality published in JSR. The award is funded by the Foundation for the Scientific Study of Sexuality. The Editor and the six Associate Editors of JSR select the award winner. The article below has been chosen as one of two articles (joint winners) to win the award this year.
- 2016-2018 Outstanding Teaching Professorship Award (Assistant Professor Level) [7500]
Given to one assistant professor in the university each year. The award is one of the “highest recognitions given to a faculty member to honor exceptional merit in teaching” based on a review of example lectures, syllabi, assignments, teachings statement, peer observations and evaluations of lectures, and student evaluations.
- 2016 Chapman University Scholarly/Creative Faculty Grant [2500]
Received funding to conduct research on the prevalence and predictors of body image dissatisfaction among gay, lesbian, bisexual, and heterosexual men and women in a national sample of adults.
- 2016 Chapman University Faculty Appreciation Award Nominee
Nominated by students for having the “best teaching style.”

- 2015 Funding for Research on News Media and Antifat Bias (3 sources) [$29,511]
Received funding and co-wrote grant applications with Dr. Abigail Saguy to conduct research on the effects of news media representations of medical studies on attitudes about weight, obesity-related public policies, and anti-fat prejudice. Funding was received from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation [$20,000 awarded to Dr. Saguy], the UCLA academic senate [$7511 awarded to Dr. Saguy], and the Chapman University Scholarly/Creative Faculty Grant [$2000 awarded to Dr. Frederick].
- 2015 Chapman University Faculty Appreciation Award Nominee
Nominated by students for faculty who “go above and beyond in making a difference for students both inside and outside of the classroom.”
- 2014 Chapman University Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship [$8000]
Supervised two community college students through an intensive 30-hour per week summer research program. The students conducted research on sexual orientation and body image (Brittney Allyn) and how being in a competitive academic or social environment evokes body image dissatisfaction and body modification strategies (Sherry Vong). Funds awarded directly to students ($6000) and to faculty supervisor ($2000).
- 2013 Rising Star in Psychological Science
Was selected as one of several junior faculty recognized for contributions to the field of psychology by senior faculty members of the Association for Psychological Science for “being exemplars of today’s young psychological researchers” who “have already made great advancements in science.” APS is the second largest organization of psychologists (and largest organization devoted specifically to research rather than research/therapy).

- 2013 Chapman University Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship [$8000]
Supervised one community college student and one Chapman student through an intensive 30-hour per week summer research program. The students conducted research on intrasexual competition and body image (Sammie Tang) and ethnicity and body image (Mindy Gibson). Funds awarded to students ($6000) and to faculty supervisor ($2000).
- 2011 Dena Chertoff UCLA Psychology Graduate Service Award in Psychology
Awarded to 1-2 of 150 UCLA graduate students annually who demonstrated outstanding contributions to the overall well-being of the department and the students, faculty, and staff who comprise it.
- 2011 Feminist Evolutionary Psychology Award for Graduate Student Research
Awarded to one graduate student annually by the Feminist Evolutionary Psychology Society for research highlighting issues related to feminism and biology or on the active role women played in shaping human evolution.
- 2010-2011 UCLA Graduate Division Dissertation Fellowship [$20,000 and tuition/fees]

- 2010 WPA Christina Maslach—Phil Zimbardo Research Award [$500]
 Awarded to one social psychology graduate student annually:
 Frederick, D. A. et al. (2010). Preferences for muscularity in 26 countries across 10 world regions: Results from the International Body Project I. Western Psychological Association, Cancun, Mexico.
- 2004-2010 FPR-UCLA Culture, Brain, and Development Research Grants [$26,656]
 Awarded a series of competitive grants for a variety of projects, including funding for an international study of body types preferences and body image, and factors promoting body dissatisfaction and face dissatisfaction among women of different ethnicities.
- 2009-2010 UCLA Institute for Society and Genetics Traineeship [$18,000 and tuition/fees]
 Received mentorship from researchers in biology and sociology, examining how scientific advances in genetics impacts society, and how society impacts scientific inquiry. Participated in weekly workshops, research meetings, and colloquiums with researchers in medicine, sociology, biology, anthropology, and psychology
- 2009 UCLA Psychology Department Distinguished Teaching Award in Psychology.
 Awarded to 1-3 of 150 UCLA Psychology graduate students annually for excellence in mentoring and teaching undergraduates.
- 2008 Society for Personality and Social Psychology (SPSP) Travel Award [$500]
- 2008 Harold H. Kelley Award
 Awarded to one UCLA psychology graduate student annually for paper advancing theory in psychology
- 2008 UCLA Psychology Department Excellence in Research Award [$500]
- 2004-2007 National Institute of Health National Research/Service Award [Approx. $86,000]
- 2007 NSF-UCLA Interdisciplinary Relationship Science Research Grant [$1000]
- 2006 Institute for American Cultures [Asian American Division] Research Grant [$1500]
 Awarded to recruit participants for a study examining different processes leading to body image dissatisfaction for White versus Asian women.
- 2004 UCLA Graduate Division Summer Research Mentorship Award [$4000]
- 2004 National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship Honorable Mention

NATIONAL STUDENT HONORS AND RESEARCH FUNDING

- 2011; 2013 National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship [Approx. $252,000]
 Mentored two undergraduate lab members in application process, who were awarded the National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship (3 years full support, tuition coverage, and research funding) that were applied to their graduate program the following year: Melissa Fales, 2011 (approximately $126,000) and Tania Reynolds, 2013 (approximately $126,000). Budget and award details: NSF Fellowship
- 2010 Honorable Mention, National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship
 Mentored undergraduate lab member in application process, Andrea Niles. Supported application of former lab member Tiffany Tran.

CHAPMAN STUDENT HONORS AND RESEARCH FUNDING

- 2014-2021 Chapman Undergraduate Student Travel Awards (CUE, SGA, Crean) [$27351]
2021. Sponsored applications for Debbie Nguyen to present her research at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology and the Association for Psychological Science. ($192)
2019. Sponsored applications for Jye Bold, Stacy Vo, Chris Costa, Tori Marohn, Skye Sakashita, Emily Rauchut, Ali Nakashima, Cassidy Best, and Ro Cunningham to present their research at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology or Human Behavior and Evolution Society annual conference. ($6030)
2018. Sponsored applications for Andrea Fernandez, Jo Dare, Jaden Harding, Xana Galvin to present their research at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology annual conference. ($4770)
2017. Sponsored applications for 11 students in my lab to present their research at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology annual conference. ($11,000)
2015. Sponsored applications of Jenna Alley, Gagan Sandhu, Brittney Allyn, and Yasmin Akbari to present our research at the Society for Personality and Social Psychology conference and/or the Western Psychological Association conference. ($3710)
2014. Sponsored application of Gagan Sandhu, Sammie Tang, and Reyn Yoshiura to present our research at the Gender Development Conference and/or the Society for Personality and Social Psychology Conference. ($1649)
- 2014-2021 Chapman Undergraduate Research Funding [$12400]
2021. Sponsored application for Debbie Nguyen to conduct research on attitudes towards transwomen and Sara Iisaka to conduct research on body image and exercise has been impacted by the COVID pandemic ($1500)

2019. Sponsored application for Batool Kweider and Kylee Garfield to conduct research on whether participation in sororities increases risk for developing disordered eating patterns and body image dissatisfaction ($1000).

2018. Sponsored applications for Jo Dare to conduct research on how lesbian women communicate aspects of their identity using cultural markers, and how this impacts stigma, and for Xana Galvin, Andrea Fernandez, and Jo Dare to conduct research on how people responded to the NFL player protests, and for Chris Costa, Stacy Vo, and Andrea Fernandez to study variations in the behaviors people consider infidelity, the behaviors they have engaged in, and how this relates to STI transmission risk. ($3000)

2017. Sponsored applications for Beth Rentko to conduct a mixed-method quantitative-qualitative experiment examining men's responses to media and Caitlyn Turner to conduct research on how social factors can influence attraction. ($1900)

2016. Sponsored applications for Gaganjyot Sandhu to examine how medical research studies shape beliefs about obesity, for Terri Scott to examine the effects of media on body image, and for Yasmin Akbari on subvertising and photoshop warning labels to advertisements. ($3000)

2015. Sponsored applications for Jenna Alley to conduct research on gender differences in sexuality and attitudes regarding hook-up culture on campus, and for Milad Khosravi to conduct research on how sexual orientation, personality, and attachment style are related to body image. ($2000)

Chapman Psychology Department Outstanding Senior Award

Given to student who stands out and excels in the department. Given to Jo Dare, who conducted a series of three studies in my lab on how lesbian women convey aspects of their identity through dress, appearance, and body language, whether people detect these cues, and whether they affect prejudice and discrimination. Jo served as my part-time lab manager from 2017-2018 as well.

Chapman Psychology Department Outstanding Research Award

Jenna Alley conducted research on sorority membership and body image, and different explanations for gender differences in attitudes towards casual sex and hook up culture. Given to 1-2 of approximately 400 majors each year.

Chapman Psychology Department Outstanding Research Award

Ted Miller conducted research on risk factors related to HIV and PEP, and mental health in LGBT populations. Given to 1 of approximately 400 majors each year. Co-supervised with Dr. David Pincus.

Chapman Graduate Student Travel Award

[$600]

Sponsored application of Brooke Gentle (M.S. in Health Communication) to present our joint research at the C-WESS conference.

SELECTED EXAMPLES OF MEDIA COVERAGE

Below are selected examples of news coverage of my research or commentary solicited for stories based on my research expertise, designed to help foster public interest in scientific research. Many of these studies were also featured or discussed in national and local radio and television outlets (e.g., Good Morning America, Today Show, CNN, Fox News, NBC News) as well as popular culture references to my studies (e.g., Conan O'Brien monologue, Late Show with Seth Meyers monologue). Independent organizations hired by Chapman University to track news coverage have estimated the advertising-value equivalent of this news coverage to be over $3,000,000. Their estimates for different studies include: jealousy ($858,000), mate preferences ($619,000), sexual behavior ($378,000), and a combination of studies on sexual satisfaction, body image, attractiveness from 2016-2017 ($1,011,000). This represents a subset of the media coverage received.

University Service

Psychology Part-Time Faculty Coordinator, 2012-present. Approximately half of the courses in the department are taught by adjuncts and each semester approximately 20-25 part-time faculty are needed to teach these courses. In Spring 2021, 36 course sections were taught by part-time faculty. The average teaching evaluation for these faculty was 4.3/5.0 and median was 4.4/5.0. In Spring 2018, 37 course sections were taught by part-time faculty. The average teaching evaluation for these faculty was 4.3/5.0. Overseeing these faculty and responsibilities is a substantial time commitment but one that is very rewarding as I see faculty developing their teaching skills.

My service role is to recruit, interview, and recommend for hiring adjunct faculty to teach courses in Psychology. I then provide training, guidance, and feedback to adjunct professors. I conduct classroom observations of the faculty members and solicit feedback from students about their perceptions of the positives and negatives of the class in a structured format. I then provide detailed feedback to the faculty with concrete suggestions and examples to enable them to improve their lectures, exams, study guides, syllabi, and interactions with students in the classroom. For new faculty, I also provide detailed feedback on their syllabi to help them improve their assignments, course structure, and reading assignments, while still ensuring they maintain the academic freedom to highlight and showcase their expertise.

Furthermore, I address personnel issues that arise with adjunct faculty and students in consultation with the Department chair. In conjunction with the department chair and psychology department administrator, I create the course schedules and assignments after the full-time faculty have been assigned by the chair. I work with the psychology department administrator to solve the Rubik's cubic of scheduling adjuncts into timeslots and courses that are consistent with their availability and ensure that classes needed for majors and minors are being filled. I carefully track how many classes are filling, overfilling, or underfilling, and adjust course offerings to ensure that the needed classes are scheduled. A recent analysis of course enrollments university wide provided by Associate Provost of Academic Administration Dr. Ken Murphy on 5/16/2017 shows that the psychology department is nearly perfect in scheduling the appropriate number of seats and courses to meet the expected demand.

A major contribution I made to the department and to the university in this role is that I expanded course offering to so that psychology classes now routinely offered by top adjunct faculty during Interterm and Summer sessions. When I took over as adjunct coordinator, no faculty were teaching over interterm. I have expanded the Interterm teaching substantially to enable students greater flexibility in their course scheduling and to help us retain some of our top adjunct faculty by providing additional opportunity for income. Prior to my taking over scheduling, there were 0 classes over Interterm in 2012. I have steadily increased the number of sections offered since then as it appears there is currently an insatiable thirst for psychology classes over Interterm. In 2015, I scheduled 8 Interterm classes, and then increased this to 13 in 2016 and 12 in 2017. Approximately 571 students were able to enroll in psychology classes during Interterm, which may have contributed to the ability of the psychology department to routinely schedule classes with fewer than 25 students per class this year.

Finally, to recognize the exceptional performance of the adjunct faculty and because we face the problem that our best adjuncts get offered full-time positions or higher paying adjunct positions at nearby universities, I successfully petitioned the administration for pay raises for high performing adjuncts. Relatedly, the psychology department was awarded two year-long 3-2 part-time faculty positions but for 2017-2018 one of these positions was rescinded. I petitioned to retain both positions, showing that we are using these positions for very high-performing instructors who teach challenging classes and yet still maintain student teaching evaluations near 5.0 and reasonable course GPA distributions.

In my role as adjunct coordinator, I recruited the following new adjunct faculty: Louretha Adams, Svetlana Berdashky, Gerald Binder, Scott Blum, Eunice Choi, Desiree Crevaceuor-Macpherson, Michelle Dexter, Seima Diaz, Michael Dooley, Gennady Erlikhman, Esther Hanes, Nicole Harake, Matthew Hunt, Colin Holbrook, Shelva Hurley, Andrea Jablonsky, Marina Kahana, Elizabeth Kane, Dinko Kranjac, Tara McCoy, Patrick Morse, Kristina Mouzakis, Brynn Nodarse, Taylor Oliver, Shari Paige, David Paltin, Christina Pedram, Janice Phung, Jessica Preston, Kathleen Preston, Preston Reed, Ben Rosenberg, Anondah Saide, Mercedes Samudio, Nicholas Shaman, Heather St. John, Lilian Shin, Andrew Thompson, Kirsten Trickey, Kat Valentine, Jessica Walker, Doug Wilson, Moriel Zelikowsky. I rehired existing faculty: Jay Slosar, Nancy Deatrack, Deborah Phoenix (Maher), Richlyn Evins, Monika Davignon, Heather Dickinson-Anson, Joshua Susskind, Annette Iversen, Cheryl Crippen.

Member, Crean College Faculty Review Committee, 2018-present. Review applications from assistant professors, instructional faculty, and clinical faculty applying for promotion to associate status.

Media Outreach, 2012-present. In conjunction with Chapman PR office, actively promoting research publications to the media and responding to media requests for interviews and commentary. PR office conservatively estimates that this has resulted in over 2.8 million dollars in advertising-equivalent value.

Grant Reviewer, Undergraduate Scholarly/Creative Grant or SURF, 2014-2020. Evaluated undergraduate research grant submissions.

Chair, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2019-2020. Recruited and hired three full-time non-tenure track faculty in psychology: John Hunter (UCI post-doctoral researcher), Desiree Crevecouer-MacPhail (research project coordinator), and Matthew Ballew (Yale post-doctoral researcher).

Member, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2017-2018. Soliciting and evaluating applicants for tenure-track faculty member in health psychology, which led to hiring of Dr. Amy Moors (Purdue University post-doctoral researcher).

Co-Chair, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2016-2017. Recruited and hired tenure-track faculty member in computational health psychology, Vincent Berardi (SDSU post-doctoral researcher).

Member, Crean College Merit Evaluation Committee, 2016-2017. Developing recommendations for yearly annual merit raise and system for evaluating annual reports. Formula I proposed was passed by 47-2-1 faculty vote.

Co-Presenter, Chapman Town and Gown Organization, 2016. Presented on research relating to jealousy and emotions in relationships along with Dr. Jennifer Bevan to Town and Gown, an organization that fosters connections between Chapman University with the local community.

Chair, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2015-2016. Recruited and hired tenure-track faculty member in health psychology, Kelly Gildersleeve (Chapman post-doctoral researcher).

Chair, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2013-2014. Recruited and hired full-time instructional assistant professor, Jessica Walker (UCLA post-doctoral researcher).

Member, Psychology Job Search Committee, 2012-2013. Recruited and hired two tenure-track faculty members in health psychology, Jen Hahn-Holbrook (UCLA post-doctoral researcher) and Julia Boehm (Harvard post-doctoral researcher).

Working Group Facilitator, Crean College Documents and Funding Policies, 2013-2014. Headed working group charged with task of revising Crean College peer evaluation of teaching documents, criteria for assigning conference travel grants, and criteria for assigning student worker funds.

Presenter, SURF/Psi Chi/College Dorms, Guide to Getting into Psychology Graduate School, 2012-2015. Gave six presentations on what graduate schools are looking for in strong applicants, and the different career paths in psychology.

Research Website. Created public website to enhance visibility of research activities to help promote the visibility of my work conducted at Chapman University to researchers and to the community  indicates that all students gave highest score (9/9 or 5/5).

*Outlier score of “1.00 out of 5.00” removed due to small sample size.

Note: For ease of comparison, all scores were converted to a 5.0.

Note: Completion rates of teaching evaluations for Chapman were always above 80% of class, and were typically above 80% of class for University of Hawaii at Manoa and UCLA. Average GPA for Chapman courses during Fall and Spring semester are typically 2.7-3.4 (B- to B+).

The scores are for the following items:

Chapman University: Overall, the instructor was effective in this course.

UH-Manoa Campus: This course is highly recommended if it were taught by this instructor

UH-Manoa Online: I enjoyed this course.

UCLA: Instructor overall.
