

Precious Treasure
Isabel Kehoe, Grade 8
St. Joachim Catholic School, Costa Mesa
Teacher: Michelle Golden
Survivor Testimony: Leon Weinstein

One of seven, with a wife and child
Many friends near and far
Tranquil home, and peaceful country

Intact treasure

Family broken, taken away
Work is the only way to survive
Sister died close at hand, crying for the sake of humanity

Tarnished treasure

Danger, lurking at every corner
Daughter hidden away
Money taken and his child abandoned
Every outstretched hand, only a betrayal

Broken treasure

Daughter returned
But to safety she must go
A mother's child departed from her arms
A wife killed by a Nazi's gun

Shattered treasure

War was gone, but so was his family
His will was not broken, for his hope survived
A search for his daughter, a child lost by war

Searching treasure

A daughter that seemed lost forever
A search never to be complete, a heart never to be whole
Suddenly familiar eyes appeared, a daughter in her father's arms again

Newfound treasure

As I listened to your story I felt the pain that filled your heart
Everything they did to you, was because you were not like them
I cannot imagine the horrors that you experienced, but I understand being different

Hidden treasure

I understand that sometimes people treat your differences like mistakes,
Even if they are not
Your differences make you special
But many times we forget this

Unique treasure

I will not let hateful opinions define me
I am not like them

Loving treasure

You did not have the choice to accept your differences, but I do
I cannot pretend to be someone else, because already so many have been forced to do the same
"I have found my precious treasure"
