

Interdisciplinary Minor in WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

The women's and gender studies minor provides students with a broad, interdisciplinary framework for analyzing social practices related to gender as well as the impact on their own lives.

The minor requires a total of 21 credits, at least 12 of which must be upper-division, distributed as outlined below. At least 12 credits may not be duplicated with coursework taken towards the student's major and other minor(s). For additional information regarding the Minor in Women's and Gender Studies, please contact Professor C.K. Magliola in the Department of Sociology.

For more information, please contact:

Professor C. K. Magliola
magliola@chapman.edu

or, contact your Academic Advisor.

The Minor in Women's and Gender Studies provides an overview of interdisciplinary approaches to the study of women and gender, the cultural politics and social in-equalities related to them, and the intersections of gender with race, class, sexuality, and other axes of power. The minor provides students with a broad, interdisciplinary framework for analyzing gendered experiences and practices.

LEARN MORE ABOUT THIS MINOR HERE!

